

INTRO

To say Blackfriars takes great care to create a well thought out drinks menu from local produce isn't enough. Our amazing team needs little encouragement to take a step further to embrace the ethos of seasonality and sustainability. Members of our dedicated team can often be seen in our wonderful countryside; foraging in the woods, along our hedgerows and unspoilt coastline, or simply picking herbs and edible flowers in our Cloister Garden. Our award-winning barman creates some ingenious historical cocktails, infusing spirits and cordials with the bounty of foraged produce and discarded fruits. Almost all our beers are brewed locally and the gradual move towards cans is a step towards reducing our carbon footprint. This very same ethos applies to our food, sourcing flour and game from North Yorkshire; cheese, rapeseed oil, honey, organic milk and venison from Northumberland and fish from North Shields fish market. Much of our meat and vegetables come from Wilde Farm on the outskirts of Ponteland. It's very much an ongoing process, with our continuing focus on finding ways, in these challenging times, to harvest seasonally, preserve our bounty, and utilise ancient techniques of drying, fermenting and pickling.
