

INTRO

Blackfriars does a lot more than simply taking great care to create a well thought out drinks menu from local produce. Our amazing and dedicated team needs little encouragement to embrace the ethos of seasonality and sustainability from foraging in our local countryside or growing edible herbs and flowers within the walls of our Cloister Garden.

With over 4 years in the planning, we now have at Blackfriars our very own St. Dominic's Brewery which sits within the friary's former Chapter House which subsequently became the meeting house for the Brewers Guild. Ben Hall, our head brewer is now crafting heritage-driven beers which are traditional yet modern. Ben grew-up in both Normandy and Belgium where he nurtured a real love for and understanding of traditional continental beers.

The same ethos applies to our food, sourcing flour and game from North Yorkshire, cheese, rapeseed oil, honey, organic milk and venison from Northumberland, and fish from North Shields Fish Market. Much of our meat and vegetables come from Wilde Farm on the outskirts of Ponteland to which we are sending back some of our brewery's spent grain as animal feed. Spent brewing yeast is used to make some of our breads. It's very much an ongoing process, with our continuing focus on finding ways, in these challenging times, to harvest seasonally, preserve our bounty, and utilise ancient techniques of drying, fermenting, and pickling.
